County Warning Given To Persons On Relief Rolls

Prosecution Faces "Relief
Spongers" Says Welfare
Head Hogue

SOME GET JOBS AND STILL TAKE RELIEF

Stiff Prosecution Will Be
Fate Of These Persons
Is Warning

A stern warning went out today from County Welfare Officer Mansford B. Hogue, promising that county authorities will see to it that the full penalty of the law is exacted of "relief spongers" who continue to draw relief orders after obtaining jobs.

Director Hogue declared this morning that one or two minor cases of this kind had been uncovered during the past week. This disclosure, it was believed, provoked his statement today.

No Leniency For Them

"No mercy can be shown anybody who poses as one needing aid," said the county director, who added emphatically, "and none will be shown. Should we discover that a person is receiving aid when not deserving of it, the county will prosecute."

Director Hogue assured that needy folk acquiring jobs will be carried over on the county's roll long enough to keep them supplied until their first pay comes, but that fair play is the only thing asked.

The county office reported that needy cases were still decreasing at the average rate of from eight to 12 families a day. However, certain additions are also being noted.

Speaking of the prosecution against any poacher who collects county money while receiving pay from his work, Director Hogue said "it will be justice of the right sort." Applicants are urged upon to give notice when they have secured work.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Lawrence County Boy Scouts have an opportunity to earn a medal as a reward of merit in game and fish conservation, by presenting proof of killing of ten water snakes. Water snakes not only destroy a lot of fish, but also eat much food which the fish are dependent upon for existence. Proof from the scoutmaster of a troop, that a scout killed ten water snakes, will bring a handsome medal from the Pennsylvania Fish Commissioners, at Harrisburg.

Pa Newc has learned that McConnell's Mills, beauty spot along the Slippery Rock, has a constant caretaker now to help direct visitors to scenic points and to see to it that persons careless in the woods are warned accordingly. Efforts in the future, as in the past, will be made to protect that picturesque gorge so that real nature lovers can always enjoy it.

Civic clubs, several together, unite each summer to give a large group of the city's most needy boys a week's outing at Camp Fred L. Rents of the Y. M. C. A. That's commendable, something that for a spell at least gives the lads a taste of the healthy outdoor life.

The "NRA" signs—the blue eagles—were going up fast today. Your's up.

A lot of good rain clouds, which looked as if they might spill over any moment, passed over the city last night. Several tiny showers were noted, but the rain which fell did not lay the dust.

As Pa Newc emerged from the waters of the Slippery Rock Tuesday evening he had a new experience for as he dragged himself from the water up onto a large rock, there attached to one of his toes was a leech and it was after considerable

GERMAN WOMAN LEADER GUEST OF WOMEN HERE

It is the constant activity of the American business woman that has most impressed Dr. Marie Munk, of Berlin, on this, her first visit to the States.

Seated on the porch swing of Dr. Mildred Roger's home on North Mercer street this morning, Dr. Munk, the founder and first president of the German Federation of Business and Professional Women, talked of business women in her own country, of how they differ with those in America, of her experiences in the Prussian courts where she is a practicing lawyer, of the divorce laws.

Women So Busy.
A quiet and collected, unassuming and very charming woman, Dr. Munk, speaking in perfect English and with hardly a perceptible accent, enthused over the fact that American women are "so busy."

"They are always doing something. I never saw such busy women," she smiled and indicated Dr. Rogers and Dr. Rozella Popp who were sitting nearby, knitting. "See—always busy. The German girls in businesses and professions rest between tasks, or just sit and talk. Perhaps this trait of the American women is what has gotten them better positions in the business world."

The conversation came around to Dr. Munk's work with divorce laws. Divorce laws is a subject on which she has written extensively. Being the first woman to become a civil

National Police Force On Scotland Yard Plan Likely In United States

(International News Service)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 2.—A new and powerful governmental machine, built to grind out the social flotsam behind a recent wave of kidnapping and gangster outrages, was seen today as the probable product of a conference between President Roosevelt and his assistant secretary of state, Raymond Moley.

Neither the President nor Moley has affirmed or denied reports that such a unit was to be set up. On the other hand, Moley, who spent several hours with the president, did reveal he has given such an organization, described as a sort of super-Scotland yard for this country, considerable thought. He called on Mr. Roosevelt at "Krum Elbow," the president's estate here, where he is vacationing for ten days.

In this connection, Attorney General Cummings earlier revealed that he has done some work towards planning an organization of this sort.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—An order effecting the release of Bertrand Succop from the Allegheny jail by commutation of his year's sentence bore the approval of Gov. Gifford Pinchot today.

The governor at Mt. Gretna last night announced he had signed the commutation which frees the deposed Pittsburgh director of supplies. Succop held that office in the administration of the late Mayor Charles H. Kilne, who resigned to escape a jail sentence. Succop had served about five months of his term for malfeasance in office.

NRA' PLEDGES REACH 240 TODAY

Indicative of the splendid support that local employers are giving President Roosevelt's broad NRA program, the post office at noon today had received 240 certificates of compliance from employers of the New Castle area.

Each received a NRA display set in return for his pledge.

Hope For Heat Relief In Eastern Regions

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—Cloudy skies, promised by the weather bureau, today were expected to bring the Philadelphia district some relief from the blistering heat wave which has claimed a total of 14 lives in the past four days.

Ten more deaths resulted from the intense heat yesterday as the mercury soared to 97, a new all-time high record for August 1. In addition, five Philadelphians, including two small children, were drowned while swimming to escape the heat.

Chante Lloyd, aged 105, believed to be the oldest resident in the city, was one of the heat victims.

Twenty-two Dead

New York, Aug. 2.—Record-breaking heat, with a total of 22 dead in the New York metropolitan area in two days and filled hospitals with victims, again today scorched the Atlantic seaboard.

Slight relief in thundershowers and cloudy weather was predicted for later today but fair was the forecast for tomorrow.

Thirteen persons died yesterday in the New York area, the mercury climbing to 95 degrees and giving New Yorkers the third hottest day of the year.

The New Castle and Lawrence County Grocers and Meat Dealers Association in regular session last night at 326 Neshannock avenue, the headquarters of the organization, not only went on record as being one hundred percent behind President Roosevelt in his effort to conquer the depression through the medium of the National Recovery Act, but also that it and its members would back Fred L. Rents, chairman of the movement in Lawrence county one hundred percent in his efforts.

Progress was reported in the campaign being conducted throughout the county by the organization with Frank W. Hill, secretary of the association, as chairman, to get every retailer of food products signed up as members of the association. One of the objectives of the National Recovery Act is to have every retailer of any kind in the United States join their respective trade association in their branch of industry.

Mr. Hill is being assisted by a group of retailers and members in every section of the county. Over fifty new members have been secured in the past week.

Dry Bureau To Cease To Exist On August 10

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The prohibition bureau will cease to exist next week, marking another phase of the gradual relaxation of enforcement activities by the government.

On Aug. 10 the executive providing for many bureau consolidations will be effective.

Officials said today that about 1,000 trained agents will be transferred from the old dry bureau to the newly created division of investigation of the justice department, headed by J. Edgar Hoover.

The process of weeding out the agents who will be dropped has been in progress for sometime. About 1,000 will lose their jobs. Those retained will be a picked group and probably will be available in the division of investigation for work other than prohibition enforcement.

Hoover, it was understood, planned to use the qualified prohibition agents in connection with the drive against racketeers and other forms of organized crime now getting underway, directed by Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant to the attorney general.

Conditions in New Castle are growing better according to City Director of Finance Albert Hoyland who stated today that city collections during July 1933, were 28.48 percent greater than during July, 1932.

Hoyland said that during the depression period the city has experienced a very pronounced shrinkage from month to month over a similar month of the previous year. However, the change for the better came last month.

Business Men Drafted For N. R. A. Drive

President Roosevelt Selects
614 Business Men Of Nation To Serve

NO COMPENSATION WILL BE RECEIVED

Recovery Board Of Nine
Members Chosen In Each
Of 48 States

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—More than 600 business men of the nation have been drafted by the president to command his reemployment campaign. A recovery board of nine members has been named in each of the 48 states, while a committee of seven for each of the 26 recovery districts has been asked to volunteer their services.

Each of the 614 persons drafted by the president was advised of the action by a telegram over the signature of recovery administrator, Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson. It read:

Message Sent.
"President Roosevelt has drafted you as one of the nine members of the state recovery board for the state of ——— as explained in bulletin three of July 20, 1933. He has requested you to volunteer your services without compensation in this great drive for national rehabilitation. As a member of this board your duties will be to get every patriotic American citizen employer and consumer to cooperate in this program. Please wire acceptance immediately and you will receive further instructions."

The 26 districts correspond generally to the territorial districts of the department of commerce.

District Committee.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 2.—Representing labor, industry and finance, three prominent Pittsburghers today were asked by President Roosevelt to serve on a district "committee of seven" to advance the national reemployment drive.

They are Ernest T. Weir, president of the National Steel Company; J. C. Chaplin, president of the Colonial Trust Company, and P. J. Fagan, district president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Others who will serve on the committee are George E. Sprawls, of Clayville, Pa.; Gray Silver, Martinsburg, W. Va.; Arthur Colgrove, Corry, Pa. and George L. Coyle, of Charleston, W. Va.

PIECES FOUND OF BLASTED AUTO

Here are shown pieces of the auto that was blown to bits by the explosion in the Bauder school road, near Portersville, early Monday morning, at the time that Mrs. Demaris Rubright, of this city, who was in the car, was blown to bits. Pieces of the car are still being recovered on the farm in the vicinity of the roadway, some of them hundreds of feet from the explosion scene. Hundreds of curious have visited the scene since the terrible occurrence.

Hundreds Of Autoists Drive To Auto Blast Scene On Bauder Road

Portersville, the junction point of the Benjamin Franklin and Perry Highway is in the headlines this week. The white light of notoriety has been beating down on the peaceful little spot since early Monday morning when an explosion on the Bauder School Road tore an automobile into bits, did the same thing for Mrs. Demaris Rubright, and scattered fragments over a 600 feet radius.

One doesn't expect violence back on the Bauder School Road. It winds through a valley that seems to be protected from the outside world by two mountain like hills, and once there one imagines himself a thousand miles away from civilization and the violence that goes with it.

Narrow Dirt Road
The narrow dirt road leads off the Perry Highway, climbs unevenly to a slight eminence, then descends by way of ruts and humps that rock your automobile as though you were seated on a dromedary. Suddenly the road makes a sharp left turn and opens into the farming valley where some 500 feet down the road the explosion occurred.

Why Mrs. Rubright was on such a road at one in the morning is a mystery. While one can wind around on dirt roads from Harmony to Portersville, it is much easier and faster to take the Perry Highway with its 18 feet of concrete. There would be no reason for her being on the Bauder School road as a matter of convenience.

Why the bomb, if it was a bomb, was set off where it was is another mystery. It could have been exploded down the road farther where there were no houses. Instead it was set off near the house and barn of O. D. Myers.

In an ordinary year it is doubtful if 300 cars would traverse the Bauder School Road. Since Monday morning it has been clogged with traffic and all of it, morbidly curious sightseers who want to see the spot where the explosion happened, to look for mementoes of the occasion and to discover if possible, new evidence in the case.

He said Rubright had admitted under questioning that he was with his 27-year-old wife until 15 or 20 minutes before the terrific explosion ripped the Rubright coupe asunder and scattered parts of the car and the New Castle woman's body over a 400-foot area.

Rubright, the district attorney disclosed, was convicted in Butler county within the past year on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, following a fight at Middle

Recovery Code Interpretations To Be Sent Here

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER
Special Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—Official interpretations by the industrial recovery administration of N. R. A. codes will be sent to the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

The recovery administration is now engaged in preparing interpretations of all phases of President Roosevelt's blanket code. These reveal how the various types of employees will be affected, how salaries and wage rates may be altered, etc. They inform the employer just what to expect for his particular branch of activity under the blanket code.

The recovery administration points out the obvious impossibility of providing each employer in the United States with copies of these interpretations. Hence it is planned to keep copies on file at chambers of commerce, trade associations, and manufacturers' organizations. Under this scheme, copies of the interpretation and regulations will be sent to the New Castle chamber as they are prepared, where they may be appraised by local business men and manufacturers.

N. R. A. MAY TAKE HAND IN COAL STRIKE

Pinchot Seeks Peace Agreement

Frick Company Closes Mines In Area Of Most Serious Trouble

REPORT PICKETS ARE NOW ARMING

(International News Service)
The National Recovery administration moved to take a hand in Western Pennsylvania's seething bituminous coal strike today as unrest and rioting continued in the huge coke region of Fayette County.

In addition, the state government worked in conjunction with the United Mine Workers of America to curb the violence which already has caused one death and serious injury to more than a score since the walkout started a week ago.

Meanwhile, the strike spread swiftly. Checkups showed more than 40,000 miners were away from their jobs today when yesterday the number had been around 30,000.

Johnson May Attack

Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, was said to be planning to deal a verbal attack on the strike in his address at Harrisburg today before a group of Pennsylvania industrial and business leaders seeking clarification of the NIRA work.

Out of Gov. Pinchot's attempted "permanent peace" conference between operators and miners today came the union's offer to send 2,000 "union guides" into the strike-paralyzed region to curb the activities of the pickets.

The chief executive hailed the move as "assuring a new kind of cooperation to establish good order and peace in the strike districts." Gov. Pinchot characterized the union's efforts as a "step never before undertaken." It came as the outgrowth of the conference which lasted four hours and at which the union only was represented, the operators having turned down offers to mediate with the governor and the U. M. W.

Peace Overtures

While these peace overtures were being drawn up, word came out of the strike zone that pickets were arming themselves, following four clashes yesterday in which sheriff's deputies were accused of shooting into crowds of strikers seeking to persuade miners not to return to work.

Three of the outbreaks occurred during the morning at H. C. Frick Coke Company mines, resulting in the shooting of nine pickets, one of whom later died, and the gassing of several persons with tear gas bombs.

Two more pickets were shot last night at the Grindstone mine in a fourth clash between strikers and deputies.

Mines Closed

As a result of the disorders, the Frick Company announced all its mines in the Fayette county martial law zone would be closed down completely because of "lack of sufficient protection."

This move led to further demands for more national guardsmen at the scene. Only 325 are in Fayette county now and Maj. Kenneth Mo-meyer, in command, repeatedly has stated he needs 2,000 troopers to patrol the strike area properly.

persuasion that the animal, if that is what they are, was forced to leave go his hold.

Out around East Brook seems to be the prize corn growing territory of this district this season. Corn is eight feet high in some of the fields at the present time.

Pa Newc wonders what the candidates for office expect autoists and residents of the countryside to do, when they plaster a tree with pictures of ten or a dozen different candidates. No one is going to stop and look over a tree that is thus blotting the peaceful landscape. It seems to be the idea of candidates that if one picture is plastered on a tree every other candidate ought to deface the same tree. Such procedure is not what Pa Newc would term a vote getter.

of cars here since the explosion" said C. D. Myers. "We took a check for a while Monday afternoon and evening and we figure there were 2000 of them passed down the road. All of them stop and get out and hunt through the fields. Now and then they find some part of Mrs. Rubright's body, or a piece of steel or leather from the car."

Mr. Myers will always remember the explosion. He had gone to bed and was sleeping when suddenly the house seemed to be almost lifted from its foundation. "I first thought it was lightning that had struck" said he.

"My daughter Nannie had been sick all day and the explosion frightened her. After she quieted down I came out of the house and in the meantime one of my neighbors had come out of his."

"It was pitch dark and I decided to drive down the road to see what had happened. I only drove a couple of hundred feet when I came upon the wreckage and I knew no one could have lived through it. I called to my neighbor to notify the state police, and then we discovered that the explosion had torn down the telephone wires."

Not Dynamite Or Gasoline

"That explosion was not dynamite and it certainly was not gasoline," said Mr. Myers. "It must have been nitroglycerine for every indication pointed to it. Dynamite explodes with a rumbling rolling roar. Nitro lets go with a sharp incisive crack which is the way this explosion was."

"Dynamite goes down into the ground, and this explosion didn't mark the road much. Dynamite blows windows in while nitro pulls them out with its terrific suction. All my windows on the front of the house were pulled out and so were the windows in the chicken coop. As for it being a gasoline explosion, that idea is ridiculous. From my experience around oil fields I would say it certainly was a large charge of nitroglycerine."

As Mr. Myers talked, cars were streaming down the road, churning up the dust as they went, sightseers were walking over the Myers fields looking for a vicarious thrill as they picked up bits of wreckage. Along the roadways were steel and leather and glass, while just at the point of the explosion the crank case oil still stained the road.

Portersville, but what it might have lacked in excitement for years has been more than compensated by the most atrocious death of a woman. Corn waves its tassels idly in the August sun, wheat shocks piled in an adjoining field look like a setting for a Biblical Ruth, while farther over, cattle browse peacefully wondering perhaps what all those humans are doing as they walk up and down the road and fields, heads down, intent upon something or other.

It may be years again before the drum of motors and the smell of gasoline break the peacefulness of the Bauder School Road. But for a little while it is an important road, to the thrill loving public.

judge in Prussia, she has had an opportunity to observe much on this universal problem.

Divorce Problem

"I do not believe that the divorce problem would be helped at all by more difficult divorce laws."

I do believe that the cause for so many unhappy marriages is largely that of the women. Since the war and the many changes it brought, women have partly lost that so important "feeling" as to the right mate to choose. Their entrance into the business is not to blame except for making them so independent that they forget that now, as always, it is the woman's duty to adjust herself as far as possible to her husband's nature, his likes and aversions. That has been an art studied by women for thousands of years and shouldn't be forgotten so suddenly. Being in the business world needn't interfere with marriage. If the young wives will remember women have always been much more capable of adjusting themselves to situations than have men."

Dr. Munk's entrance into law was not at all surprising, although it was an unheard of thing for a woman in 1911 at which time she received her degree. Her father was a judge and so was her brother. She decided early that she would be a judge also—and was.

Tonight the people of New Castle will have an opportunity of hearing Dr. Munk speak at a tea at 327 Wallace avenue. Men and women will be present from the city's leading clubs.

drafted for use of the retailers in the food distribution branch of industry in Lawrence county. The actual drafting of the code will be undertaken at a later date.

One of the matters that will be considered in the drafting of the code for this district is the suggestion of a fifty-two hour week for business purposes in the retail food stores. This would mean shorter hours for the proprietors as well as the shorter hours for their help.

The resolution adopted last night relative to the support of the movement follows:—"That the New Castle and Lawrence County Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association with representation in every part of the county, hereby goes on record as approving the National Industrial Recovery Act and pledges 100 percent support to our president, Franklin D. Roosevelt and his recovery program."

To Draft Code

The New Castle and Lawrence County Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association, being the representative trade body of the retail food industry in Lawrence county will draft a code to regulate their industry in conformity with the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act. This code will be published after its adoption and approval by the retail food stores of the organization and district.

This trade association will be used as a government instrumentality through which the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act and agreements contained in trade codes will be enforced. The local organization has affiliations with the Pennsylvania Retail Association and the National Association of Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers of the United States, under whose jurisdiction the entire independent food industry will be governed.

A representative group of the organization will attend a state convention at Pittsburgh, August 7, 8, 9 and 10, at which time they will make arrangements with Charles H. Von Tagen of Philadelphia, who has charge of drafting the Pennsylvania State Code for retailers in the food industry, to come here and address the merchants of this district on or about Thursday, August 10, in regard to matters pertaining to the code.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Margaret Kirk Whittaker.
Mrs. Margaret Kirk Whittaker, aged 67, widow of James E. Whittaker, 1004 Highland avenue, died suddenly at noon Tuesday, August 1, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul A. Kanengieser, Bessemer, where she had been visiting. Mrs. Whittaker had been suffering from heart trouble for the past several weeks, but her death was most unexpected.

Mrs. Whittaker was born June 19, 1866 in Hampton, N. B. Canada and had been a resident of New Castle the past thirty one years. She was a member of the First Methodist church.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Paul A. Kanengieser. Funeral services will be held Thursday, August 3, from the Kanengieser home at Bessemer at 2 p. m. E. S. T. with Dr. Norris A. White of the First Methodist church officiating. Interment will be made in the Oak Park cemetery.

Mr. Dean's Funeral

Funeral services for the late John William Dean, Wilmington road, Neshannock township, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family residence with many friends and relatives present. Rev. Charles W. Johnston, pastor of the Central Christian church, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. Thomas Francis of the English Avenue M. E. chapel. Services at the grave were conducted by the officers of the Mahoning lodge No. 243, F. & A. M. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The pallbearers were Matt Davis, Dan Davis, Bert Sanford, Walter Yoho, Ed Rumbaugh and Harry Alter. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. W. L. Bradford of Waterloo, Iowa, a sister of Miss Melda Davenport, a local teacher, and an aunt of Mrs. Fern Snyder, both residents of Butler avenue, New Castle. She passed away at her home Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock due to heart trouble.

Mrs. W. L. Bradford.

Three months ago a sister of Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. B. A. Walrath, died, and Miss Davenport was excused from her school duties to go on to Waterloo. The latter has been in Iowa since the close of the schools here.

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Bradford on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her late home.

Mrs. Ibbie Shindel.

Mrs. Ibbie Shindel, aged 80, widow of John C. Shindel, died at 3 p. m. Tuesday at her home, 124 Hillcrest avenue, following an extended illness due to her advanced age.

Mrs. Shindel was born in New Castle, April 27, 1853, the daughter of Joseph and Isabella Fulkerson Gibson. She was well known and highly respected. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church and the Lodge of Ben Hur.

Prior to her marriage to Mr. Shindel, she was married to William A. Caldwell, whose death occurred quite a number of years ago. Mr. Shindel preceded her in death in 1917.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. C. E. Snyder of this city, one brother, David Gibson of this city, one grand daughter, Mrs. Norman Dannels of New Castle and one great grand daughter, Norma Dannels of this city.

Funeral services will be held Friday, August 4, at 2 p. m. at the late residence, 124 Hillcrest avenue, with Dr. S. E. Irvine in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park Cemetery.

Samuel H. Norris.

Samuel H. Norris, aged 70, died suddenly at his home at Gardner, New Castle R. D. No. 7, Shenango township, at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Norris was widely known and highly respected and his death comes as a shock not only to his family but to all who knew him.

Mr. Norris was born in New Castle May 4, 1863, the son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth Boyd Norris, and had been a lifelong resident of New Castle. On March 1, this year, Mr. Norris retired from the service of the J. J. Dean company, after about 15 years service with that concern. Prior to that he had been in the service of the R. C. G. White Undertaking company for approximately 20 years.

He would have been married 50 years to Deborah Rice, who survives him, on July 3, next year. Mr. Norris had been a faithful member of the Epworth M. E. church back to the time when it was known as "The Little Jim" church. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. He attended the Reynolds school, now known as the W. N. Aiken school, and was a member of the Reynolds school association.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Deborah Rice Norris, and the following children: Mrs. Fred C. Wolford, Mrs. Albert Ellis, Mrs. Raymond McBride, Claude Norris and Karl B. Norris, all of this city; also two brothers, John B. Norris of Walmo and Frank L. Norris of this city, and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday, August 4, at the family residence in Gardner, Shenango township, at 3 p. m. with Dr. W. W. Sniff in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

John Blair Reed.

John Blair Reed, aged 63, well known and highly respected resident of this city, died Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. at his home, 312 Leasure avenue, following a heart attack.

Mr. Reed was born in Allegheny, Pa., May 8, 1870, the son of Charles E. and Mary Blair Reed. He received his education in Zelenople, where he spent his boyhood days. He was chief dispatcher for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, both in this city and Pittsburgh, some years ago, after which he became affiliated with the Canadian Pacific railroad in western Canada, which position he held for 17 years. Due to his illness of arthritis it was necessary for him to give up this position and return to this city eight years ago.

Mr. Reed was in a state of invalidity for the past 30 years, but always bore his suffering patiently and cheerfully during that period of time, 17 years of which he was with the Canadian Pacific railroad. His cheerfulness and patience under suffering was such as to endear him to all who knew him.

He was a former member of the Presbyterian church. He had been married for 35 years. He leaves his wife, Mary L. Jay Reed; one daughter, Mrs. T. L. Nixon, this city; his step-mother, Mrs. Jeanette Reed of Zelenople; two sisters, Mrs. H. F. Gelbach of Hurdland, Mo., and Mrs. R. D. McCully of Dilton, Okla.; one brother, W. A. Reed of Burgettstown, Pa., and two grandchildren, Norma and John Nixon. He was preceded in death by a brother, C. L. Reed of Grant, N. M.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday, August 3, at 2:30 p. m. at the late residence, 312 Leasure avenue, with Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, in charge. Interment will be made in Greenwood Memorial park.

Ernest Forrest Hockenberry.

Ernest Forrest Hockenberry, 224 Elm street, Slippery Rock, Pa., died in the Butler Memorial hospital, Wednesday, August 2, at 1:35 a. m. following an operation.

Mr. Hockenberry was born in Isle, Butler county, April 6, 1888, the son of Casper and Priscilla Bryan Hockenberry and was 45 years of age. He had resided in Slippery Rock for the past twenty-two years, where he was employed as night police officer at the State Teachers College. He was known in a wide circle of friends and held in high esteem by all who knew him.

He was married 26 years ago to Grace Watson. He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Slippery Rock. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Grace Watson Hockenberry and the following children: Virgil W., Hilda V. and Shirley E. Hockenberry at home, also four brothers, Robert M. and Joseph Hockenberry of Butler, Calvin Hockenberry of New Castle and Milton Hockenberry of Slippery Rock and five sisters, Mrs. Mary Double and Mrs. Cora Cooper of Slippery Rock, Mrs. Anna Miller and Mrs. Amelia Young of Portersville and Mrs. Blanch Albert of Butler.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence, 224 Elm street, Slippery Rock, Pa., on Friday, August 4, at 2 p. m. E. S. T. with Rev. R. A. Thompson in charge. Interment will be made in Slippery Rock Pa. cemetery.

BUTLER COUNTY PROSECUTOR TO DIRECT ACTION

Lancaster with Arthur Webster, a fellow truck driver. Negley said Rubright served a short jail term.

Negley said the charge would not be placed against the suspect until he had conferred with officers now out working on the case.

Mrs. Edna Sayre, of Youngstown, N. Y., mother of the dead woman, visited the Berkimer Mortuary in Butler today, where she viewed her daughter's head, the only remaining part of her body capable of identification.

Although questioned at length Rubright has clung to the story that his wife left him in Harmony before she died in an explosion of an auto he had bought for her, intending to drive back to New Castle alone.

Officials are unable to understand what the car was doing on the lonely road where the blast occurred, if Mrs. Rubright was enroute home alone to New Castle. Numerous developments since the death of Mrs. Rubright are being fully probed by the Butler county officials.

cials, and according to District Attorney E. H. Negley, preparations are being made to place charges in the case.

William Rosner is being held in jail here along with Rubright, having been arrested at the same time as Rubright, in Pittsburgh, Monday afternoon.

Came Here Alone

William Rosner's reported statement that he and Katherine Schaeffer were with James C. Rubright when the latter called for his wife Sunday night, July 30, is denied today in a statement by Mrs. Samuel Minnick of 107 North Crawford avenue. Rubright came to the home of George E. Annabel alone, she says.

Mrs. Minnick's statement may be an important one in the case of Rubright and Rosner, now being quizzed in the death of Mrs. Rubright, who was blown apart by an explosion as she sat in an old coupe on the Bauder school road near Portersville Monday morning.

"My home is next door but one to the Annabel home," said Mrs. Minnick. "Sunday night I was sitting on the porch about 10:30 when a dark sedan drove north on Crawford avenue by my home and parked the wrong way in front of the Annabel home."

"My attention was drawn to it by the fact that it did park the wrong way. James Rubright got out of the car and went up onto the Annabel front porch. About 10 minutes later Mr. Rubright and his wife came out of the Annabel home, got into the sedan and drove away towards town."

"My porch is about 60 feet away from where the car was parked. There is an arc light near the spot where the car was parked. As I sat on the porch I could see into the back seat of the sedan and I am positive that there was nobody in the seat."

Rubright and Rosner are reported to have said that they drove over to New Castle with Katherine Schaeffer and the latter two waited while Rubright got his wife and the four of them went for a ride.

To File Charges

District Attorney Edgar H. Negley says he believes he now has enough facts to warrant the laying of charges against James C. Rubright and William Rosner.

Mr. Negley stated that he was going to serve the papers on Rubright and Rosner some time today.

Water Company Repaves Street

Fixing Court Street Between Crawford Avenue And McClain Alley

Director of streets Stanley Treser today announced that New Castle Water company employees had commenced making repairs to the cartway of Court street between Crawford avenue and McClain avenue. All of the brick will be cleaned and relaid. The water company has about 10 men employed on the job.

Originally there was a leak in a main and a new main was put in. Complaint was made that the repair to the cartway was not satisfactory. Officials of the water company were summoned to council and a promise was given that when weather conditions became ripe repairs would be made.

The cartway is being repaved from curb to curb.

Nearly 300 Permits To Fish In Lake At Cascade Park

Approximately 275 persons have been granted permission to fish in Cascade Lake, Cascade Park, C. C. Coulthard, superintendent, said today. The 275 does not include probably scores of boys who do not have to possess a license to fish. According to Coulthard, anglers are catching numerous bass. He said two boys from the South Side several days ago "caught as fine a mess of bass as I ever have seen."

Recently bathing was prohibited in the lake and fishing opened. It is believed that as the city operates the park and fishing is allowed, the lake will be stocked. If so, there certainly will be some good fishing within the next few years.

CHILDREN MADE HAPPY

There are few sadder things than toy-hungry children—children whose parents are unable to buy them even the cheapest of toys with which to satisfy their craving for play and amusement. How many lives have been ruined in consequence of this condition is something with which sociologists may speculate.

It is known, though, that children often turn to the theft of toys, when they are unable to get them any other way. If they find it easy to "get away with" this form of petty crime, it may mark the beginning of criminal careers.

It was this fact that led recently to the launching in New York city of a new idea that is carrying happiness into the lives of thousands of children. So successful does its operation appear to be that it may spread throughout the nation.

Mrs. Ida Cash, probation officer in Brooklyn, was its originator. It has resulted in the establishment in one of the poorer sections of New York of a "toyery." The latter operates along the lines of a free library but lends playthings instead of books. "I noted in the course of my work," said Mrs. Cash in explaining how the idea came to her, "that children were constantly being arraigned in court for stealing toys. I thought that if we could establish a place where children could borrow toys, fewer criminal records would be started at an early age."

Most of the toys were donated to the establishment. Many came from private homes where their usefulness had vanished, and business concerns gave others. The success of the establishment was immediate. The district has in it 4,000 children and the request for playthings was quick and voluminous. When a child becomes tired of a toy taken out, this is returned and another obtained.

The idea was a happy one. It is applicable, of course, in any city.

OF DOUBTFUL WISDOM

In asking the New York legislature for a law which would make the payment of ransoms to kidnapers an illegal offense, Governor Lehman is striking what would prove an effective blow at kidnaping if such a law could and would be enforced.

It is the expected ransom that causes kidnapings. If the would-be kidnapers knew beforehand they would receive none, there would be no kidnaping.

But, could such a law be enforced? The chances are that it could not be. Relatives or others who might ransom a kidnapped person certainly would not make public or let the police know that they had paid a ransom. It is difficult even now sometimes to obtain admissions that the release of kidnaping victims has been purchased. The kidnapers, of course, would not reveal the fact.

Safety of the victim is the first consideration of the family of a kidnapped person. That the police and other peace officers can not be depended upon to rescue the prisoner has been demonstrated too often for the family and friends of an abduction victim to put much faith in this means of effecting return of the latter. It, therefore, has become customary for the family to request the police to withdraw from the case until the victim has been ransomed.

This condition is not a credit to law enforcement agencies. It exists nevertheless. A law making illegal the payment of ransoms would not improve it greatly.

NEW GIANT OF THE AIR

With the United States considering the abandonment of the construction of dirigibles, it is interesting to note that in Germany, where the Zeppelin had its birth and where airship construction has made its greatest progress, a new giant dirigible is being built.

It will be double the size of the Graf Zeppelin and will embrace many improvements over the latter. Its length will be 612.7 feet and it will have a diameter of 135.4 feet. One of the features it will contain which the Graf does not have will be a smoking room. The passenger accommodations, the crew's quarters the pilot's bridge and the wireless room will be inside the hull instead of outside as is the case with the Graf. Four Diesel engines will supply the propulsion force.

A feature which is expected to add greatly to the safety of the ship will be that the latter will be inflated with helium instead of hydrogen, which the Graf uses.

To what extent the huge volume of the ship, 7,092,800 cubic feet as against the Graf's 3,707,970, will increase the operating difficulties and the hazards will be an important question. Should the craft perform successfully, the question would be raised of how large airships can be made with safety.

The experiment will prove interesting from many angles.

ROYAL ROAD WITH 36 DETOURS

The Federal Office of Education at Washington has discovered in a survey of 517 institutions of higher learning that there are now thirty-six different methods of entering college. In the South and elsewhere among normal schools the high school diploma offers the favorite form. In the West admittance is often on the basis of a transcript of high school credits. In New England the prevailing custom is the examination of the College Board. Then there are principal's recommendations, personal interviews, college aptitude tests, character rating and a host of other criteria which may be taken singly or in combinations.

The diversity has much to commend it. No single rule can be universally and uniformly applied with the best results. Princeton once rejected the youthful Alexander Hamilton as unprepared for that college's ministrations only to have the future statesman matriculate at Columbia (then King's College), and later the distinguished alumnus reflected no little glory on his alma mater.

The requirements for professional schools may well vary from requirements for ordinary academic pursuits. In law schools, for instance, the desire today is for something more than a selection of young men and women with capabilities for legal training. A man letter perfect in jurisprudence and statute law may turn out to be a shyster. Ethical qualifications have come to play a large part in the demand of bench and bar, though the means for discovering these attributes often fall short of perfection.

The pursuit of knowledge, whether purely cultural or vocational, depends largely on the individual in ways that can not easily be standardized. Of course, a great many mistakes are made under the present lack of co-ordinated procedure. But a great many more would be made under a system less flexible.

NO PROMISE PLEASE

WHEN I was seven an old lady up the street collected all the neighborhood children into her house and gave them lemonade and cake. . . . Afterward she had all of them sign little cards promising that they would never, never, never smoke a cigarette.

She was a nice old lady, but she had the wrong point of view. She didn't want to smoke cigarettes. She thought nobody else should smoke. And she believed in the idea of impressing the filthiness of smoking on children when they were very young, young, young. But she didn't know much about "psychology." She did not know a promise may be an itching, rankling, provocation to disobedience. . . .

She hadn't the slightest idea of how we'd feel afterwards. Instead, she put all her faith in that little bit of cardboard on which we had made our childish scrawls. . . . We had promised, under the influence of lemonade and cake, and so our promises would be good till the stars grew old and the sun grew cold and the leaves of the Judgment Book should unfold.

But those promises weren't good. I didn't smoke when I was a youngster, but I refrained in spite of that nice old lady's device instead of because of it. I never liked her, after that, and I avoided her. And I came to have a shrinking antagonism toward promises. Even when I was married I raised an eye at the promise to "love, honor and obey." But the wise man who performed the ceremony said, "What difference does it make? Where there is love there is obedience, anyway."

So I made that promise because he so wisely explained its deeper significance.

But promises are a mistake. Exact a promise and you admit a weakness. You say, "Promise me!" and you admit a certain lack of trust. You try to bind a beloved one in soft and enticing coils. You proclaim your lack of faith, and declare you are not willing to trust as you trust the sun and the stars and the clean strength of life. . . . Exact a promise and confess a doubt. Leave a man free and you strengthen him against his weakness.

THWARTING GENEROSITY

Because you try to get more than your share whenever you have an opportunity, may be the reason why you are not more liberally remembered by those in a position to favor you.

Someone has been generous with you in respect to presents or donations of money at times when it has helped you much.

But you were not satisfied and followed devious methods to extract larger gifts.

Of course you thwarted your own purpose.

And you deserve your fate. None likes to feel imposed upon and even the most generous will withhold gifts which he might contemplate in your behalf, when such an impression is created.

The grasping person never appreciates what is done for him.

If you are one of the "gimme" persons you don't deserve anything. No matter how strong and kindly family feeling for you maybe; irrespective of how sincere friendship may be, those whom you try to use as an easy means of getting what you want will cease to be liberal when they begin to understand that your aim is to get all you can.

AND THE

Mud Puddles

Both the photographer and the mother had failed to make the rest-less little four year old still long enough to have his picture taken. Finally the photographer suggested that "the little darling" might be quiet if his mother would leave the room for a few minutes. During her absence the picture was successfully taken. On the way home the mother asked: "What did the nice man say to make mother's little darling sit still?"

"He said, 'You this still, you little brat, or I'll knock your block off.' Tho I that still!"

Safe Driving

"Hint"

By The National Safety Council

KEEP TO THE RIGHT
There's safety and security in that little line that runs down the middle of the rural highway pavement. It is a veritable life line to motorists who will use it as they should. Keep to the right and you will always be right. While this is true at all times, it is especially important as you approach a curve or the brow of a hill. Motorists coming from the opposite direction have a right to expect this of you.

Don't hold to the center of the road, even though the highway is deserted ahead. This practice, typical of the "Sunday driver," slows up traffic and causes accidents.

Riding the life is hogging the road. Don't be a road hog.

HOW TO MEASURE CORN IN CRIB, HAY IN MOW, ETC.
This rule will apply to a crib of any kind. Two cubic feet of sound, dry corn in the ear will make a bushel shelled. To get the quantity of shelled corn in a crib of corn in the ear, measure the length, breadth and height of the crib, inside of the rail; multiply the length by the breadth and the product by the height; then divide the product by two, and you have the number of bushels in the crib.

To find the number of bushels of apples, potatoes, etc., in a bin, multiply the length, breadth and thickness together, and this product by 8, and point off one figure in the product for decimals.

To find the amount of hay in a mow, allow 512 cubic feet for a ton, and it will come out very near correct.

AMOUNT OF PAINT REQUIRED FOR A GIVEN SURFACE
It is impossible to give a rule that will apply in all cases, as the amount varies with the kind and the thickness of the paint, the kind of wood or other material to which it is applied, the age of the surface, etc. The following is an approximate rule: Divide the number of square feet of surface by 200. The result will be the number of gallons of liquid paint required to give two coats, or divide by 15 and the result will be the number of pounds of pure ground white lead required to give three coats.

Complete domination of German sources of opinion is observed as the aim of Chancellor Hitler when he extends his dictatorship to the Protestant Churches of the country. It is held that there is doubt of his ultimate success in holding all branches of national life under his banner, and predictions are made that the factions within his own organization will endanger the Chancellor's position.

"By seizing control of the Protestant church," according to the MIAMI DAILY NEWS, "he has embittered every sincere churchman of that faith, and by his attempt to interfere with the Roman Catholic church, a strong force in South Germany, he has completed the job of setting the entire religious world against him." That paper also remarks that by his persecution of the Jews, from whom Protestant and Catholic alike derive their basic religion, he aroused international enmity. The Daily News concludes: "The compulsory salute of the church to Nazi authority may easily prove the most costly tribute ever purchased to satisfy his vanity."

"There must be perplexing days for the devout citizen of Germany," thinks the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, declaring that "by the same tactics of force, misrepresentation and control of the organs of public information which brought Hitler to power, the German or Hitler Christians won control of the German Lutheran church, and are in process of converting it into an arm of the state, like the press and the radio."

The Daily News concludes: "For the moment, all seems to capitulate before triumphant Hitlerism, but history records the fall of many such attempts of states to dictate the religious beliefs of citizens, and there is no reason to think that the German scheme will prove an exception to the rule. Whether a new church will rise from the blood of German martyrs remains to be seen. Certainly a people like those of America, who scrupulously divorce the state from the church, have much to be thankful for as they contemplate the spectacle of German Protestantism under Hitler."

"The Nazis," says the PORT WORTH STAR TELEGRAM, "are going extensively into the Church and State business. Chancellor Hitler emitted an epigram on the subject. 'The church expects protection from the State which, in turn, is entitled to expect allegiance from the church,' he declared. 'A church which is unable to support the State is just as worthless to the State as a State which does not protect the church is to the church.' Henry VIII said practically the same thing about it, except that nobody was protesting except Henry. The Nazis protest when the sign of the drooping swastika is used as a gonfalon. Henry had little but a list of church officials when he started his church and state campaign. Hitler reverses the motion. He created a congregation by counting the votes of those who voted according to orders. Then he announced that approximately 400,000 elders would be elected." The Star-Telegram asks "if Henry VIII wasn't a piker." "An amazing object lesson in the docility of the German people" is seen by the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, and that paper makes the comment: "The only conclusion that we can draw from the Christian life reaction to Nazi pressure is that most of the Germans actually like the dragoning that they are getting, that they like to be told when, why and how to think, move and have their being, and that the rest do not very violently dislike it. Once we have reached this conclusion, we must further conclude that gratuitous sympathy with these docile 'ordies' is a total loss."

Evidence of weakness on the part of the controlling force in Germany is observed by the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, and the treatment of religious organizations is analyzed by the EVENING STAR with the statement: "These developments take their place alongside the whole chain of amazing events which have marked the course of German life since the advent of the Hitler dictatorship. Subjection of the church to its will may strike the Nazi autocrats as incontrovertible evidence of their omnipotence and invincibility, but abroad it is designed to convey the impression that the masters of Germany are hard put to it to retain their iron grip on the country when they must resort to enslavement of religious conscience. The Pope last Spring expressed doubt as to the permanence of the Nazi regime. Perhaps (Continued On Page Five)

FRIENDS OLD AND NEW
Here's to the old friends true
Who share in all we do
And have learned all our ways
Through many yesterdays
Their are the hearts that share
All that we meet or care:
Their are the eyes that see,
Though grave our faults may be
The good that lies below
That's why we love them so!

But here's to the happy day
When comes across our way
A new friend, blithe and bold
To join the faithful old.
Glad is the sheltering door
To welcome in one more
Brighter the fireplace where
We draw another chair
But happiest, at day's end
Are we to gain a friend.

NOTABLES BORN THIS DATE

—F. Marion Crawford, b. 1854, novelist.—The White Sister, Mr. Isaacs, etc. Born in Italy, of U. S. parents, he lived most of his life there and in Germany, England and India. Yet was chosen to compose the national ode at the centennial of the American Constitution. Jack L. Warner, movie magnate, one of five brothers who disregarded all advice and introduced the talking-picture in a new form after others had failed to make a success of it. (On Aug. 6, 1926, four days after Jack's birthday, the first feature-length talking picture was released on Broadway.) The movies' most amazing era followed.

1776—The Declaration of Independence, adopted on July 4, was signed by 54 of the 55 whose signatures are upon it. Two absentees affixed theirs later. Of the 56 signers, seven were not members of Congress on July 4. The signers were proscribed as traitors by the British government and rewards of 2500 offered for their apprehension.

1918—American youths, drafted to make the world safe for democracy, landed with Allied forces at Archangel, Siberia, to aid Russians in a restoration of the Russian monarchy. The U. S. units engaged in the expedition were the 38th Infantry & 310th Engineers.

It cost 600 American lives, many millions of dollars. M. H. Bruce Lockhart, agent of the British government in Moscow at this time, says (in his book British Agent): "The consequences of this ill-conceived venture were to be disastrous both to our prestige and to the fortunes of 'hose Russians who supported us. It raised hopes that could not be fulfilled. It intensified the civil war, and sent thousands of Russians to their death. Indirectly, it was responsible for the Terror. Its direct effect was to provide the Bolsheviks with a cheap victory, to give them new confidence, and to galvanize them into a strong and ruthless organism. It has intervened at all was a mistake. To have intervened with hopelessly inadequate forces was an example of paralytic half-measures, which in the circumstances amounted to a crime."

1923—Calvin Coolidge became President, upon the death of Warren G. Harding. 1927—President Coolidge announced simply, "I do not choose to run again."

NOTABLE DEATHS THIS DATE
1776—Thomas a Gainsborough, great English portrait-painter. The "Blue Boy," now in the Huntington collection in California, is the most famous of his works. 1922—Alexander Graham Bell, telephone pioneer. 1921—Enrico Caruso, tenor. His preserved body may be viewed in a church in Naples. The full-dress suit in which it is attired is replaced annually. 1876—James Butler "Wild Bill" Hickok, notorious western gunman, was killed by Jack McCall, who explained that he shot him from behind because he "didn't want to commit suicide."

As a boy Hickok heard about Kit Carson, aimed to be like him, eventually acquired more of a reputation as a bad man. Once he and 4 companions shot it out with 100 Sioux. Another time he killed 4 soldiers, wanted to fight the whole Texas Cavalry. P. S. He was kind to his mother.

A procession commemorating the legendary ride of the beautiful wife of Leofric, earl of Mercia, takes place annually in Coventry, England. Lady Godiva, legend has it, appealed to her husband again and again to remit the oppressive taxes laid upon his tenants. At last, to end her entreaties, he declared this wouldn't reduce the taxes until she rode naked through the streets. She took him at his word, issued a proclamation asking all persons to keep within doors and shut their windows, rode through clothed only in her long tresses. Only one person disobeyed her proclamation: he has been known ever since as Peeping Tom. Her husband kept his word, cut the taxes.

Urschel Tells How It Feels Being In Hands Of Kidnapers

Oklahoma Multi-Millionaire Says He Was Well Guarded By Gang

Was Well Treated; Plenty To Eat; Was Allowed To Shave

By CHARLES F. URSCHEL
Millionaire Oil Magnate, Kidnaped And Released After Ransom Had Been Paid.

As Told To International News Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2.—The best way to describe how I felt and must have looked upon my return home Tuesday after my kidnap captivity is to tell you that the federal men stationed at the door of my home this morning didn't recognize me and refused to let me in.

I don't blame him for not knowing me as I was looking pretty haggard and seedy I guess.

Terrible Experience
It was a terrible experience and one I would not want to go through again. I was held only nine days but it seemed to me to have been a month. I completely lost track of time. It seemed to me that there was no hope of escape or release. At times I felt my captors might grow as tired as I was of waiting and do away with the evidence by killing me.

I do not know whether or not I could identify them. When they first burst into my home Saturday night a week ago while my wife and I were playing bridge with Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett, they stood in the shadows.

After they put Walter Jarrett, whom they had seized with me, out of the car they blindfolded and gagged me with tape. I do not know where I was taken, but we drove without stopping for 14 hours on the way to the hideout and about 12 hours on the way back.

I could tell by the motion of the car that the trip was almost entirely over dirt roads.

It seemed colder where we went. Well Guarded

Last Wednesday when I wrote a letter home at the kidnappers' order, telling my family that my life was in danger and requesting a ransom payment, I got a peep at the place where I was being held. It looked like a three-room backwoods shanty. The two men who seized me stayed with me almost constantly, but I got the impression there were other guards and that the men holding me were working for parties higher up.

My guards seldom talked. If to prevent me from recognizing their voices later, I don't know. They treated me nicely enough but made it quite clear that they would not hesitate to kill me if any "double-crossing" put them in danger.

During our trip to the hideout I was jammed on the floor of a light model sedan. I could see enough through that first blindfold to tell that we drove all Saturday night and until Sunday afternoon, I judge until about 2 p. m.

I was told: "We don't want to make this hard on you but lie still because there'll be shooting if we're stopped."

Allowed To Shave
I was given a bottle of soda during the trip. At the shack I was given two cigars. They were not my brand and were terrible. My guards loaned me pajamas. They also read me headlines from Kansas City, Tulsa and Oklahoma city newspapers about the kidnaping.

At last, after what seemed an eternity I was told I probably would be released Sunday. Then they allowed me to shave myself partly removing my bandage for the second time and I obtained another peep at the shack.

At last I was put in a car and we drove for nearly twelve hours as nearly as I could judge. I was let out on a main highway between Oklahoma City and Norman close to the outskirts of Norman. I walked to a barbecue stand and phoned for a taxi cab which drove me to my residence.

The kidnappers kidded me a lot saying I was better looking than my pictures showed. They never mistreated me and I can't blame them for the brand of cigars they smoked.

Chicago Woman Is Victim Of Gunmen

Gunman Shoots Woman To Death On Street After Conversation

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Police launched a wide-spread search today for three gunmen who shot and killed a well-dressed woman at a South Side street corner at midnight. The woman, about 40 years old, remained unidentified.

One of the trio alighted from a maroon-colored automobile, strode over to the woman and shot her in the back after a brief conversation, witnesses told police.

Two diamond rings and the woman's purse were not touched, leading police to believe that robbery was not the motive.

SUE COUNTY FOR AUTOMOBILE CRASH

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 2.—Suits aggregating $38,000 were filed here today against the Mercer County Poor Directors, Earl Dreach, J. H. McKean and George Morgan. The actions are the result of the accidental collision of the county car driven by the late T. C. White, County Home Superintendent and that of Stanley Fuhrer of Fredonia on November 19th, 1932.

White driving from Mercer was the victim of a heart attack his auto colliding with the Fuhrer car driven by Mrs. Anna Fuhrer who asks $10,000 for injuries sustained, her husband $5,000 for expense attendant. The seven-year-old son Robert asks $5,000 for injuries and the parents $5,000 expenses. The other occupant of the car, Mrs. Helen Lacey asks $10,000 and her husband Thomas, $5,000 for expense.

DANGERS IN VIEW
August 1, 1933.
Slippery Rock, Pa.

Dear Editor:—

Just to keep our minds refreshed on some of the things that might be dangerous in making this step from approximately four years of depression, which was brought on by our high rate of speed during the World War, back to prosperity.

Here are some of our failings: If you are a business man, don't start price cutting in order to win your competitors' trade, for he has a living to earn, the same as you. If you are a mill worker, clerk, or one of many working at such jobs, don't try to enlarge the farmer's overproduction by working a shift on the farm after you have earned a fair day's wages. If you are a farmer and have your farm paid for, don't try to possess another man's job at which he may earn his living. Please remember we still have many unemployed. If you are an employee of the taxpayers, don't forget the economy. If you are the middleman for the farmer and want to help the farmer out of the rut, buy Pennsylvania produce first; then if consumption calls for more, buy elsewhere. Keep our business and money at home. If you are a milk dealer, don't ask the producer to perform his part for thirty per cent of the retail price of milk products. If you are a native of some other country, and earn American dollars, be patriotic by obeying her laws and supporting her government.

If you have accumulated money enough to keep you in comfort the balance of your days, hang up the fiddle and give the young man or woman a chance. Please remember that vast riches is not an honor, only a name.

Above all, if you are a good citizen, and love our old flag, and patriotism better than alcoholism, don't stand for the repeal of the 18th amendment, for it will never end depression, but may end your days, if you drive the highways.

Don't start profiteering for it was one of the big factors that brought about this depression. Instead, mind your failings, meet your fellow citizens half way, and keep a strong will power and we'll make this big step back from depression to prosperity.

"DOUBLE ENTRY" SYSTEM
July 31, 1933, New Castle, Pa.

Being an accountant, if I dare call myself one, it behooves me to call attention to the fact that, like many, many other accountants who have studied the "double entry" system, the theory and the application of the various principles involved, I have often wondered how many accountants (including C. P. A.'s) could answer the question: How, when and where was the "double entry" system of bookkeeping first introduced?

I do not profess to have acquired any learning concerning the history of this standing "double entry" system, in any particular school of accounting because I do not know of any that take pains to teach it simply because it is of no practical value; neither does it tend to make one a better accountant. But I do want to state, most emphatically, that a man should be acquainted with the facts relating to the history of his chosen profession. Since the story is a long one and the space limited, I shall abbreviate it thus: Bookkeeping, the system by double entry, called originally Italian bookkeeping (and it means all that the name implies) was taken from the course of algebra published by Burgo at Venice in the 16th century. John Gough, a printer, published a treatise on "Debtor and Creditor" in London, 1648. This was the earliest English work and the forerunner of many improved efforts.

True, this system is employed by practically all the larger business enterprises, although there are a few of the smaller concerns that will not adopt it, either because they do not understand its merits nor the advantage and benefits that may be derived from it; or it's because, as I have sometimes understood it, they do not wish to be subjected to a "common account" for information concerning their respective business (if you know what I mean) when they themselves feel capable of carrying on by their own private but crude methods.

More power to them.

Yours,

L. A. ORLANDO.

SPRINGS GOING DRY, FARMERS HAUL WATER FROM LAKEWOOD BEACH

So dry has the ground in the vicinity of East Brook become during the rainless July period that farmers, whose springs have gone completely dry, are hauling water for their stock from Lakewood Beach in tanks.

Lakewood's water capacity, a state test revealed last week, has remained the same throughout the dry spell. Many lakes in this section of the country, records show, have become low.

Home Loan Applicants Answer Many Queries

Applications for home loans under the Home Loan Owners corporation, now in operation here, now in the hands of Attorney Wilbur J. Baer are not complicated but there are certain answers that must be set forth describing the property and the encumbrances.

In applying for a loan the applicant must show the address, the distance from schools, churches or car lines, the street improvements adjacent, whether or not the improvements are paid for and if the district is zoned.

Board Of Zoning Appeals Finds It Has No Jurisdiction

Reaches Decision Before Time For Hearing And No Hearing Is Held

Hearing on the appeal of W. W. Walls from the decision of the city engineer in refusing him permission to erect a gasoline station at 1207 West Washington street, on the grounds that such permission could not be granted in a residence district, under the provisions of the city zoning ordinance, did not materialize.

This was due to the fact that the full zoning board, Mathew Gunton, chairman, Attorney Frank Hovey and Mrs. Florence Pearson, in executive session, prior to the time of the hearing, decided that it was without jurisdiction to permit a gasoline service station in a residence district where it is forbidden under the city ordinance, taking the stand that such matters must go to city council, which body alone has the power to make changes in zoning classifications.

Mr. Walls, who made the appeal was not present, but Charles E. Hute, who resides at 1205 West Washington street, and expressed opposition on the ground that it would damage the value of his property and also increase his insurance rates.

Matthew Gunton, chairman, stated following the decision of the board said "This should indicate to the people of this city that it is no use to appeal to this board in cases where it is desired to make a change in a residential district for commercial purposes. This is a matter for city council alone, as only that body has the power to change the zoning map of the city."

the seizure of the Protestant Church is an omen and gesture of despair on the part of the dictatorship, that feels the time has come when it must tighten up its stranglehold in every possible direction as a means of self-preservation.

"The Nazis propose," states the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, "to take command of the whole life of the people they rule. That is the necessary condition of any real dictatorship. They must either go on and convert the churches into an army of the Nazi party, as the case did with the old Russian church; or they must forego power in its field, as Mussolini had to do, claiming the bodies of their people but conceding their souls to themselves. The decision has not yet been made."

"Hitler's most vital task is before him," concludes the PROVIDENCE BULLETIN, indicating that it is to "discipline the wild spirits among his own followers." The Bulletin concludes: "If these cohorts gain power, the excesses of Hitlerism will seem mild in comparison to the reign of terror they will invoke. And Hitler has some dangerous lieutenants; he needed them for the gaining of power. They, too, have hunger for power. Germany needs more than anything else a long period of stability in which work can be found for the millions of unemployed and reassurances of peaceful intentions given to the rest of Europe. Stability is none too inviting to wild heads after the exhilaration of the Nazi revolution; they want action and still more action. The test of Hitler's strength is yet to come."

To Build Walk Along Highway

Lights Also To Be Placed in Ellport—Seek To Make Safe Traffic

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—On account of the recent serious accident on the paved road leading from Ellwood City to Portersville through Ellport and because of the dangerousness of driving along this road which is thronged with pedestrians, the Ellport Borough council decided at their regular meeting last evening in the basement of the Magyar Presbyterian church to build a sidewalk and have street lights placed along the road.

The street committee composed of Charles Hazen, Homer Christner and E. J. Hazen were instructed to meet with the Ellwood City council at their next regular meeting for the purpose of influencing the council to build a sidewalk along the road through Burnstown going the Ellport walk at the old Harmony car tracks.

The tax return for July made by collector, Charles McElwain, was larger than for preceding months and the council will enable to pay off some of their old debts.

Nominations were made for candidates for burgess, auditors, tax collector and councilmen which are to be elected in November.

Hugh Rough, the health officer reported that there had been no cases of contagious diseases in the borough for a period of several months.

Little Club Has Fine Meeting Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Dispensing a delightful hospitality Miss Midge Liebenforder and Mrs. David Jones, Jr., entertained the members of the Little club at the former's home in Ellport at their regular meeting. Mrs. Hubert Phelps was a special guest.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed around two tables of bridge at the close of which Miss Marie McDevitt and Miss Irma Irwin received the high score awards. Mrs. Phelps was presented with the guest favor.

An added feature was the serving of a delectable menu by the hostesses.

Young People Have Executive Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Executives of the Young People's society of the U. P. church held an important meeting last evening at the home of their counselor, Mrs. Emmett Liebenforder in Wurttemberg.

Following the devotional period in charge of George McKim the various secretaries gave their monthly reports. The president, Frank Gross, presided on this occasion. It was announced that the young people will be in charge of a morning church service here on August 27.

Also arrangements were made to hold a swimming party soon at the Y. M. C. A. at Evans City. Miss Catherine Wilson, the social chairman, is to be in charge.

The delegates to the New Wilmington conference this week from the local young people rendered short talks on this occasion of what they expected of the conference.

The delegates are Ruth Leach, Grace Harbison, Bessie and Bertha Burrows, Mary Lowry, George McKim and James VanGorder. They will go up on Friday afternoon and stay one week.

Hearing Is Held For Wm. Foley

Is In Lawrence County Jail In Default Of $10,000 Bail

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—William Foley of Wayne avenue, this city, is in the Lawrence County jail in default of $10,000 bond, after given a preliminary hearing at the office of Justice of the Peace J. E. VanGorder in Ellwood City Tuesday morning.

Foley was brought into the city by state police and taken out quietly again. He was charged with assault and battery with intent to rape a 21 year old lady who was present to testify. A similar charge is already filed against Foley for an attack and rape of a nine year old girl here, just a little earlier.

Community Picnic Held At Con E-Q

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Many people gathered at Camp Con-E-Q at Frisco yesterday for a fine community picnic held there all day. The afternoon was spent in enjoying a general sports program, games and contests.

In the evening a delicious picnic supper was served by a committee. Covers were laid for 100. Credit for the success of the affair is largely due to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newton.

Mrs. George Laid To Final Rest

Funeral Services For Prominent Local Woman Are Held Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—With quiet but impressive ceremony Mrs. Ella George, 66, who passed away just before noon last Saturday, was laid to her final rest in the Shango Valley cemetery, Greenville, Tuesday afternoon.

A beautiful service was conducted at the home on Second street by the Rev. R. H. Little, pastor of the local M. E. church, of which the deceased was a staunch and active member. Rev. Little was assisted by the Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Floral tributes were in profusion about the home, showing the high esteem in which Mrs. George was held here.

A large funeral procession made its way to the place of interment at Greenville. The pallbearers were E. A. Adams, George Fike, Edward Spencer, Harold Burns, Paul Winter and Perry Ueber.

Mrs. George was stricken suddenly ill early Saturday morning and was taken to the Ellwood City hospital where she died at 11:55. Immediate survivors are her husband, Thomas George; a daughter, Mildred at home; a brother, P. J. Feley of Corry, and a niece, Mrs. Mildred Dilley of this city.

Prices Raised Here By Milk Dealers

Raise Prices In Order To Comply With Government Code, Dealers Say

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—In order to comply with the code and the prices of other districts, the price of milk in the Ellwood City district will be raised by all the leading dairies. It was the decision reached at a meeting of local milk dealers here yesterday.

The following prices have been set: 1 to 2 quarts, 10 cents per quart; 3 or more quarts 9 cents per quart; pails 6 cents each; one-half pint coffee cream 13 cents; one-half pint whipping cream 18 cents; buttermilk 1 to 3 quarts 8 cents per quart; 4 quarts buttermilk 25 cents.

Fortnight Bridge Club Has Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—An enjoyable meeting was held by the Fortnight Bridge club last night when the members assembled at the home of Mrs. Alvin Thomas, on Sixth street.

Two tables of bridge occupied the attention of those present for the greater part of the evening with the high score awards at the conclusion of which Mrs. Harry Harris was presented with the high score award.

At a later hour the hostess with the assistance of her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Owens, served an appetizing luncheon. Mrs. Carl Zeigler invited the club to meet at her home on Wayne avenue in two weeks.

Outing Held By Mission Groups

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Mission Groups No. 3 and 4 of the First Baptist church of which Mrs. E. S. Dilley and Mrs. Carolyn Jones are captains respectively, held an enjoyable meeting and outing at the home of Mrs. John Sartwell on Nicholson avenue.

A delicious dinner was served by the hostess outdoors to the large turnout. After the dinner a short business meeting was held followed with a period of games and contests.

Group No. 3 will hold its next meeting on the first Tuesday of September and No. 4 on the second Thursday of September.

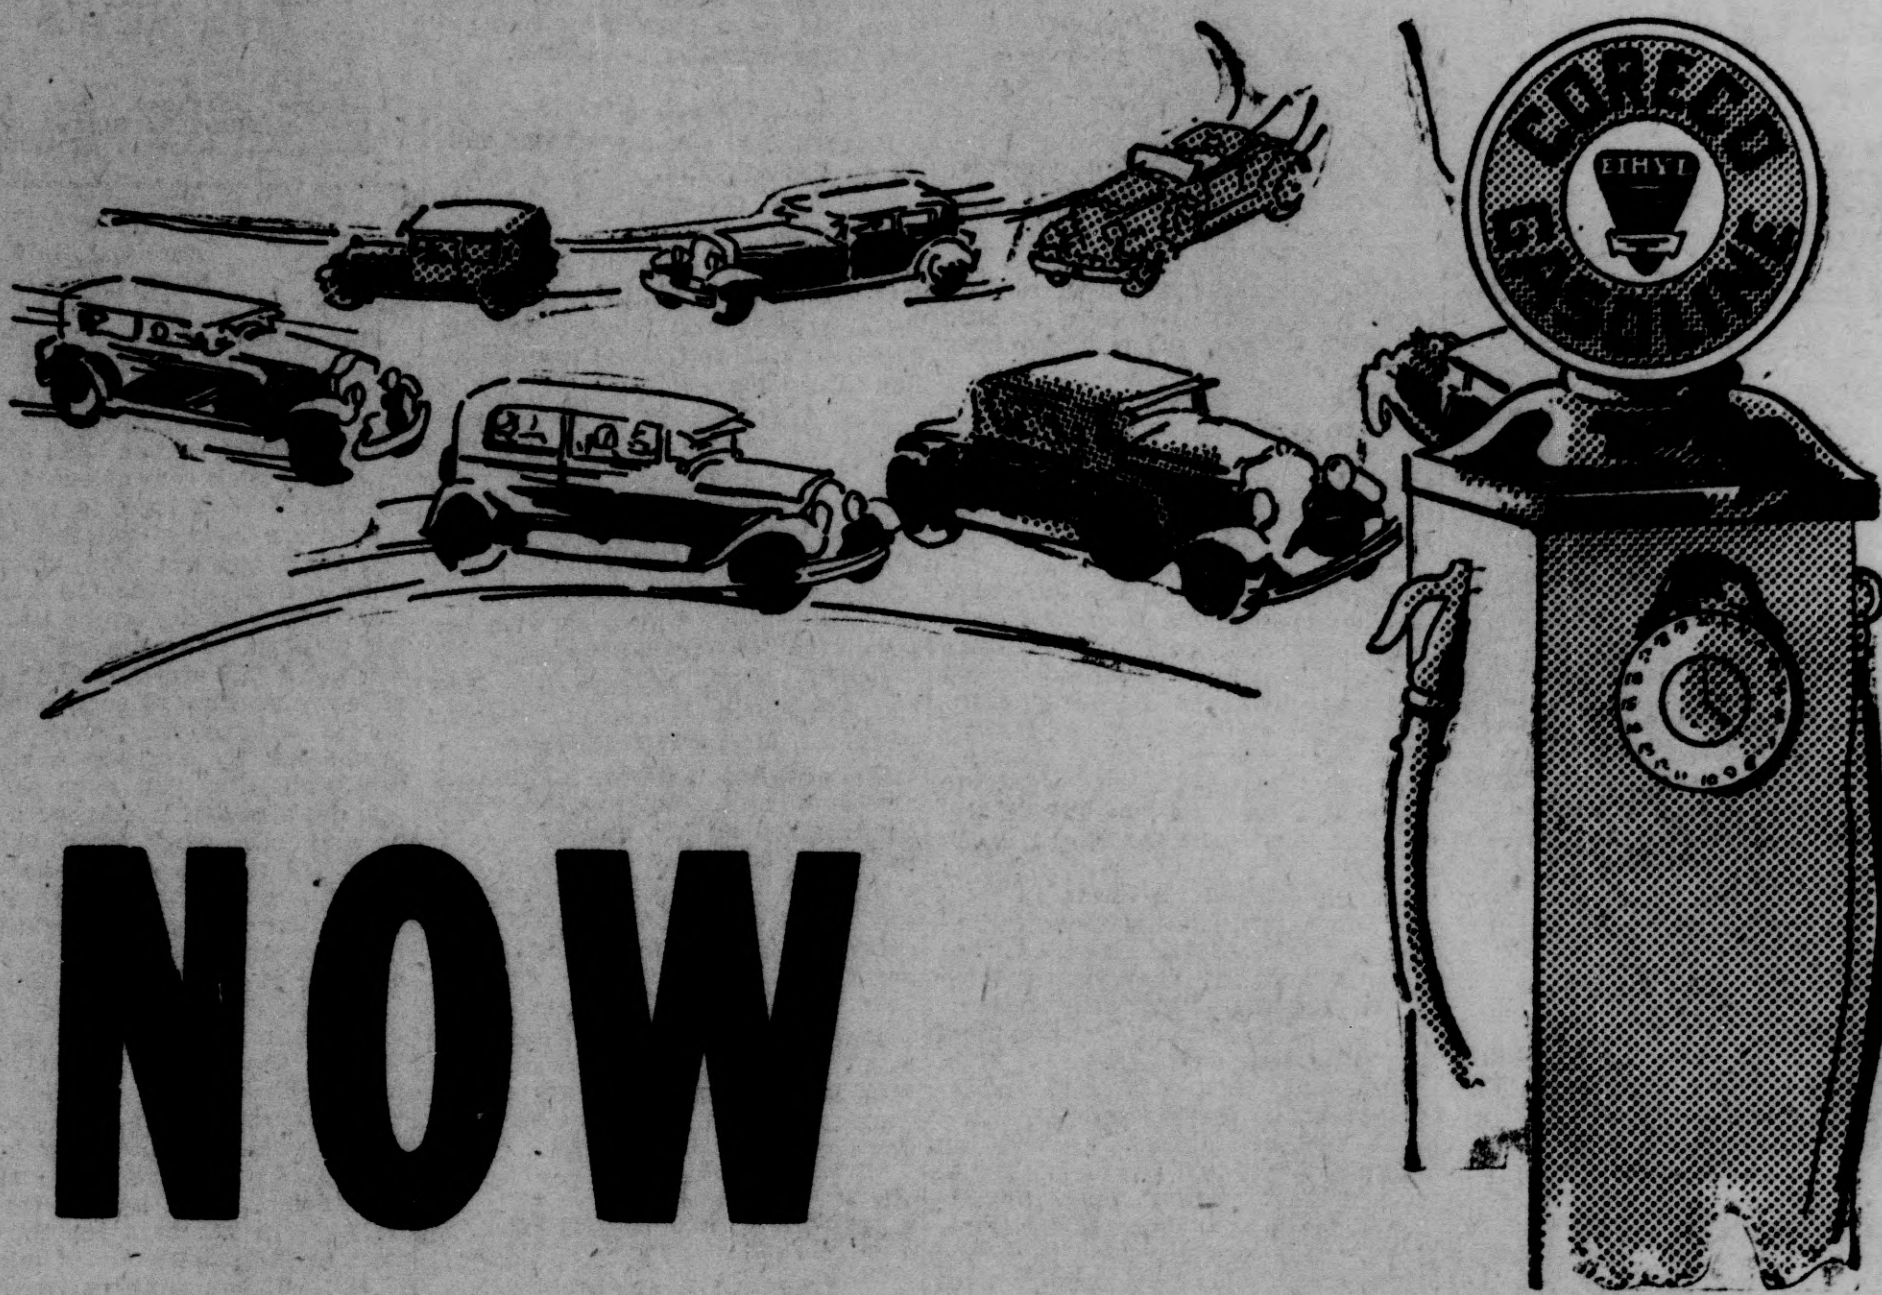

CIRCLE PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Van Gordon's Beach near Wurttemberg was the place chosen for the annual picnic of the Mary Braden circle of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church which was held last evening. Twenty members and friends were present.

The events of the evening were started by the serving of a bountiful picnic supper at 8:30. The entertainment committee consisted of Misses Amy Keller, Jean Winter and Mrs. Harry Hazen had arranged an interesting program of games, and prizes were awarded Miss Lavee Hooker and Nick Wilson as the luck contestants.

KIWANIANS BURY MR. DEPRESSION

'Happy Day' Sung At Rites—Comic Inquest, Funeral Held Today

Victim of a staggering blow sustained as he lay-walked along the business highway about March 4th, Old Man Depression, whom everyone knew, was buried at simple rites today by the city's Kiwanis club.

The clubmen sang "Happy Days Are Here Again" as the casket, carrying the old man's only remains, was wheeled out of The Castleton following a formal inquest into the cause of his death.

"Jimmie Prosperity" (James Elder, junior Kiwanian) testified to Coroner Orville Potter, presiding over the affair, that he struck Mr. Depression as he sped around a corner which to most all the witnesses seemed three or more years long. Jimmie said he was driving fast because "Franklin Delano" (Heber Baldwin, junior Kiwanian), riding in the car's back seat, had told him to.

A jury of six, Judge R. L. Hildebrand, R. L. Meermans, J. C. Miner, R. C. McCaslin, Frank Andrews and Lloyd Strayer, all Kiwanians, weighed the dramatic testimony given and then pronounced this verdict:

"We, the Coroner's jury, find that Old Man Depression came to his death everywhere as the result of injuries received when hit by Mr. Jimmie Prosperity. In our opinion it is a case of justifiable homicide."

The Kiwanians enjoyed the lunch-hour comedy, staged with the help of characters named above and L. C. Mantz, Gilbert Long and James Mayberry.

California Doctor Is Given Warning By Kidnaping Gang

(International News Service) SAN DIEGO, Cal. Aug. 2.—"When kidnaping is made unprofitable, it will stop. If I am kidnaped I request my family and friends not to pay any ransom that might be demanded."

Dr. S. M. Mann of National City made that statement today following receipt of a letter demanding that he pay $25,000.

Absence of fingerprints on the letter and the fact that an obvious attempt was made to disguise the handwriting led officers to declare that the threat was not the work of a crank.

Dr. Mann was assigned a guard.

Guardsmen Called In Alabama, Result Of Negro Attack

(International News Service) TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 2.—Mob violence had been thwarted here today when national guardsmen, called to protect attorneys for the international labor defense, who sought unsuccessfully to become counsel for three negroes charged with assaulting and murdering a white girl, were disbanded.

Presence of the guardsmen, a detachment of 63 troopers, under command of Major M. T. Jernison, is believed to have prevented possible harm to the attorneys, Frank B. Irvin, Birmingham; Irvin Schwab and Allan Taub, New York.

PERMITS FOR THREE HOUSES

New Construction During July Estimated To Have Cost $22,760

Permits were granted for the construction of three houses during July, according to Neil Williams, clerk at the bureau of building, city hall. The estimated cost is $14,700. Construction of two garages, three service stations and four small buildings, brought the cost of new construction to $22,760. Remodeling and repairs during July is estimated to have cost $2,800.

Another Circus To Exhibit Here

Saturday must be a good day for circuses in New Castle. Not so long ago Downey Bros. showed on the Cedar Street grounds on a Saturday. The circus will pay $150 for the permit, it was stated.

FRENCH CAN'T AGREE ON BRIAND SCULPTOR

(International News Service) PARIS.—Although funds have been raised for the erection of a statue to the memory of Aristide Briand, who was numerous times either premier or foreign minister of France, the government committee in charge is still unable to decide on a site and a sculptor.

The grounds of the Foreign Ministry are preferred for its location, but the committee is anxious that the new work of art blend into the ancient buildings. It is intended that the statue symbolize the policy of peace pursued by Briand during his long career.

WELL WORTH JAIL TO SLAP POLICEMAN

(International News Service) DETROIT.—"It was worth it," announced Mrs. Elise Garland, 29, auburn-haired Irish divorcee, when she heard the Judge sentence her to five days in jail for slapping a traffic patrolman with his book of violation tickets.

Mrs. Garland was stopped by Patrolman Herbert Koster and accused of speeding. Instead of following him to the station she tried to escape but was caught again. The slapping episode followed.

So You May

KNOW

About Cleaning

Prices..

We predict, in all sincerity, that dry cleaning prices will rise much quicker than prices of most retail commodities. Retail stores are frequently able to pile up large inventories bought on terms which permit advantageous selling. The dry cleaner must pass advanced costs on to the consumer at once.

Therefore, we urge that cleaning needs be anticipated. In our opinion savings will be considerable.

Eighty Men Work Along Boulevard

Three Trucks Kept Busy Hauling Gravel For Road To Park

Eighty work relief employees are putting Cascade boulevard in condition, according to Director of Improvements Stanley Treser.

There are three city trucks in operation there, he said. A force of eight men load the trucks and the other men are employed to screen and spread the gravel and help to put the road in shape. Cascade boulevard extends from Hamilton street along the former street car route to the park.

When it is opened to public travel it will provide a short and good route from the south side. There is nice scenery along the route and no doubt it will become one of the city's nicest driveways.

Auto Dealers Perfect Code

Will Go Into Effect Ten Days After Signature Of President Is Received

WILL MEET HERE
THURSDAY EVENING

Automobile dealers from Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, comprising the eighth district in the United States, established a code covering working hours, wages, and sales plans for new and used autos, at a meeting held in Pittsburgh Monday.

The meeting was attended by eight auto dealers from the New Castle Auto Dealers Association, including J. R. Rick, Charles Brookover, J. W. Barnes, T. E. Chambers, Louis Guntton, Sam Scarazzo, David H. Long, A. H. Bartlett and Ray F. Hall.

A meeting is being called for Thursday evening of this week, the place of which will be announced later, when a local organization to carry into effect the provisions of the code and to elect a representative to the National Emergency Committee, will be discussed.

Charles Brookover was named temporary representative from New Castle until an election can be held. Auto dealers from all over the county will be invited to attend the meeting Thursday.

Fish Commissioner At Lions Luncheon

Club Hears Matthew Riley, Ellwood City Man—Members To Fish

Matthew A. Riley, Ellwood City, member of the board of fish and game commissioners of Pennsylvania, addressed the Lions Club on interesting fish and game topics at its Tuesday luncheon. The talk included facts concerning the state's fish and game hatcheries.

And whether it was Mr. Riley's thrilling super-salesmanship or something else, nearly 15 members of the club signed up for an afternoon's fishing jaunt out into Lake Erie from Erie port next Saturday afternoon. Dr. Jay L. Reed is handling arrangements.

The club also completed plans for closing its championship golf eliminations.

Dr. A. H. Borland, vice president, presided in the absence of President Paul Dingley. Mr. Riley was introduced by D. E. Matheson.

SEVENTY FIVE TAKE MOTOR DRIVERS TEST ON TUESDAY

Forty-seven applicants of 75 for a permit to operate a motor vehicle in the state of Pennsylvania were successful Tuesday when the state highway patrol conducted tests in Sampson street.

The large class of candidates resulted from the fact that no tests were held here last Tuesday. Permits which expired last Tuesday were valid yesterday.

Examinations were in charge of Corporal L. C. Hanks. There were two patrolmen who aided the test. They were Patrolmen Williams and Snyder. The latter was on his first testing trip here.

The candidates for the operating privilege started to arrive at 9 a. m. There was a lull for an hour or two but in the afternoon the prospects arrived continually.

All of them were put through an intensive test owing to the fact that accidents have shown an increase in Pennsylvania and only those who survived the test gained cards.

Almost half of the number who took the test were women. They fared fairly well in driving ability and also in having learned the laws which they had to know before they were passed.

Those who passed follow:
Norma Giering, 504 1/2 Sampson street, city.
Campbell M. Ross, 514 Johns street, city.
Mollie Livingstone, 414 Croton avenue, city.
Richard Morgan, 2103 Delaware avenue, city.

Reynoldstowners Asked To Reserve Places By August 5

All Intending To Attend School
Reunion Dinner Must Make Reservations

Attention of all former students of the old Reynoldstown school is called to the fact that reservations for the reunion supper on Tuesday, August 15, must be made with the secretary, Mrs. Ella Pollock of East street, before August 5.

As has been announced before, dinner will be served at 5:30 o'clock in the Epworth M. E. church, corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue, at the expense of the Reynoldstown School association.

This makes it absolutely necessary that the committee knows the number of guests to expect.

August 15 was chosen because it is the day before the Old Timers' day, another event for which many out-of-towners will enjoy staying over.

Sun Oil Company Signs Agreement

Will Employ 3,000 Additional Men In Re-employment
Agreement

Today the Sun Oil company of Philadelphia, with branches in New Castle and surrounding territory, signed the president's re-employment agreement, which applies to the Sun Oil company and its various subsidiaries, affecting 8,100 employees.

In adhering to the president's agreement, a 30 per cent increase in employment will be effected, adding approximately 3,000 more men and increasing payrolls around 35 per cent.

Council Divests Mayor Of Power

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 2.—City council today took from Mayor J. Fred Thomas the power to name members of the police force, set their salaries and fix their rank, and ordered the payment of salary to Patrolman Donald Scott during his recent suspension for 10 days by the mayor when the officer asked for specific reasons for his demotion from desk sergeant to patrolman.

The naming of officers, fixing their rank and designating their salaries are embodied in an ordinance which passed final reading.

Grow Out of Demotion
The order to pay Scott's salary was covered by a resolution. Both measures were approved unanimously, except for the vote of the mayor, and both were the result of Scott's demotion.

The solons also voted to take under advisement a proposal to appropriate $4,000 for the filing of a formal complaint against rates charged by the local public utilities.

HOLD MERCER MAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 2.—Charged with furnishing a trusty of the county jail with liquor, James Snyder, of Mercer, was held for the September court by Justice William Glette on complaint of Sheriff Frank Fair.

When arrested Snyder denied the furnishing of any liquor but on the calling the sheriff, admitted slipping alcohol rub to one of the prisoners working in the court house.

Falls Eighty Feet Has Chance To Live

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 2.—Injured by a fall from the 80-foot stack of the new garbage plant on the Oil City-Reno road, Charles McDonald, 41, is in Oil City hospital with an even chance of recovery. He is suffering from concussion of the brain and body bruises.

How the accident happened, and what prompted McDonald, not a regular employee, to climb the stack, has not been learned. The regular force had gone when the accident occurred.

POTENTIAL JOBS FOR THOUSANDS LOOM

Business Firms Signing Pledges

State And Local Boards Are Now Organizing To Push Drive

SEEKING TO ADD 6,000,000 EMPLOYEES

By T. N. SANDIFER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Potential jobs for hundreds of thousands loomed today as business firms all over the United States rushed their pledges to shorten hours and increase wages. Many of these agreements nominally were in effect.

Taking advantage of the job opportunities thus opened, Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator today had his state and local aides all appointed, ready to launch the re-employment drive in every state and city.

Boards Organizing.
The members of these boards, nine on each state board and seven on each district board, were drafted for their duties, and were organizing while awaiting further instructions. Firms sending in pledges are predominantly local in scope, though not necessarily small concerns, the reports reveal. Reservoirs of mass employment opportunities, especially the big utility companies, with their national ramifications, are not acting very rapidly.

Johnson today frankly admitted he was not cheered by the way in which these major concerns had responded to date. Nevertheless, he said he had before him approximately 600 permanent codes of as many industries or business groups, aside from the thousands of blanket agreements being poured in hourly.

With announcement of local and state aides to push the re-employment program, the way was clear for these teams in each city to follow up plans to put 6,000,000 workers on the payrolls before winter.

Coal Code Hearing.
Coal mine officials who are in daily dread of strikes reaching their mine areas in Pennsylvania hailed with relief Johnson's announcement that a coal code hearing had been set for Aug. 14.

A few moments later they were bewildered by the flat declaration from John M. Hancock, subordinate of Johnson, who has charge of assigning hearings, that no such date has been set, and that it will be set when he announces it.

Coal operators have been pleading to have the hearing date set, or if it has been set, to step it up so as to control the situation in the strike areas. They were encouraged when dates were set promptly for the corset and brassiere industry, the millinery trades, the theatrical business, the wallpaper manufacturers, salt, lime, and half a dozen in that category.

No Jurisdiction Yet.
Johnson admitted that until a coal code has been adopted he has no jurisdiction over the situation in Pennsylvania or elsewhere. Even in the textile industry already under a binding code which is law by presidential decree, Johnson revealed that he has received numerous complaints of violations.

These include violations of the stretch-out agreement, infringement of the status of skilled workers, who it is alleged are classed as "learners" arbitrarily, in order that they need not be paid the minimum wage specified in the code.

"If I find any authenticated complaints I will take prompt action," Johnson promised. "I will do this to the extent of my authority. First we can withdraw the code from those infringing it. After that there is a succession of things we can do." He smiled grimly as he delivered this last observation.

He expects to have the oil code before him tonight to prepare it for transmission to the president. Sponsors of the steel code will be summoned to final conferences on this important within five days, a shortening of the usual interval between hearings and final adoption.

The planning and control committee on which the government is represented will remain in the code. Johnson emphasized he would not approve any code without such a body provided.

Only this way is it possible to control production and prices he said.

New Castle Ties Grays Nine, 3-3

Paul McCullough, Local Hurler, Features For New Castle

GAME TUESDAY IS CALLED IN TENTH

Several hundred fans witnessed one of the best games of the season at Centennial field Tuesday night when the New Castle Grays played the Homestead Grays. The game was called in the tenth on account of darkness.

P. McCullough Stars.

Paul McCullough was the outstanding star of the contest. Besides holding the famous colored aggregation to six scattered hits he fanned eight batters and hammered out three singles. In the opening frame New Castle pounded out three bingles to cross the plate for two tallies.

The Grays failed to score until the fourth when they tallied three runs. The visitors scored when Mickey Huff threw wild at the plate in attempting to cut off a runner. The other runs were registered when Nick Blomd missed two pop flies in centerfield. After this the Grays found the going rough.

Key Score.

Bobby Way's single through shortstop brought in the tying run for New Castle in the ninth. In the tenth Sank McCullough saved the

Centennials Win From Croton, 4-0

Evans Pitches Good Game But Makes Three Errors

Centennials blanked Croton A. C. four to nothing on Elders field yesterday. Brooks allowed only two hits while Evans permitted three. Croton made three errors behind Evans which did not help Evans who pitched almost as good a game as Brooks. There were no extra base hits.

Score by innings:

Centennials	300	010	0-4	4	0
Croton	000	000	0-1	0	3

Batteries: Centennials, Brooks and Wymen; Croton, Evans and Thompson. Umpires: Thomas and Donnelly.

Heroes-Goats In Big League

(International News Service)
The hero—Carl Hubbell, Giants. Set new National league pitching record of 46 consecutive scoreless innings.

The goat—Bill Walker, Cardinals. Was knocked out of the box in first inning by Pirates.

Hubbell Breaks Hurling Record

Carl Hubbell Pitches 46 Innings Before Any Team Is Able To Score On Him

PIRATES AGAIN TRIP CARDINALS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—This is a record-breaking week for pitching marks as well as high temperatures. Sunday "Dizzy" Dean of the Cardinals shattered a National League strikeout record that had stood for half a century. And yesterday Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants cracked another mark set a quarter of a century ago.

By blanking the Boston Braves in the first five innings, the long, lean left-hander stretched his string of consecutive scoreless innings to 46. This bettered the mark of 44 made by Ed Reulbach of the Cubs in 1908.

New League Record.

Hubbell's mark may be cut to 45 innings due to technicalities regarding two relief assignments during his streak, but he is assured of a new league record in any event. The American League record is 56.

Randy Moore, handy man of the Braves, broke Hubbell's string by scoring two runners with a single in the sixth inning. They scored another run off Luque in the seventh and won 3 to 1, the Giants getting only seven hits of Huck Betts.

The defeat left New York only 2 1-2 games in front of the Pirates. Winning and losing streaks figured in all the league games. Pittsburgh made it eight wins in succession by handing a 9 to 3 drubbing to the Cardinals, who had won six straight. The Cubs snapped a 6-game losing streak and regained third place by beating Cincinnati. Pittsburgh got off to a flying start.

Football Season Is Drawing Near

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh Will Call Football Candidates End Of This Month

With the arrival of the month of August, the football minded populace of New Castle is already starting to pick the New Castle High football team for this fall. The High gridders will entrain for camp at Muddy Creek Falls the last week in this month, it is indicated.

The summer is about gone when we start to think in terms of punts, passes and first downs again. Well, anyhow it won't be long and the fans are rather anxious for another pigskin tussle.

And, the New Castle High schedule this fall is going to be an attractive one.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Central Press Association

IN PLAYING OUT OF TALL GRASS HAVE CLUB-FACE LAID BACK

ALEX. MORRISON says:
Many players make the mistake of addressing the ball in a rough lie with a closed clubface. Any kind of a rough lie only means that much more resistance for the clubhead to cut through when hitting the ball.

When the clubface is turned forward or in the position known as closed, it's almost impossible to make a good shot. The closed face only adds to the resistance already offered by the bad lie.

The next time you must play out of long grass you can demonstrate to your own satisfaction the advantages of keeping the clubface open as you address the ball.

Just lay it back and make your regular swing. You'll find it quite easy to raise the ball.

Second-Half Schedule For Mushball League

East Side mushball league will play a few more rounds of mushball this half of the schedule drawn up ended with the games played on Monday night, and owing to the enthusiasm and interest in the league, it was voted upon by the managers to play another round. The East Side Merchants are the league leaders at the present time with five victories and no defeats.

The Radiators St. Andrews and Spencer teams are pushing the East Side Merchants hard for the lead. The managers are asked to clip this schedule out of the News and carry it with them at all times, so that they will know when their team is playing.

There are no new teams in the league and no teams are going to drop out. The league is proving to be a very popular one.

Following is the continued schedule for the East Side Mushball league.

Pirates Hope To Keep Up Streak

Cardinals Suffer First Defeat Since Frankie Frisch Became Manager

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—Frankie Frisch today smarted under his first reverse since being appointed as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. In the first game of a four-day stand in Pittsburgh the Cards went down to a 9-3 defeat, ending their six-game victory streak which started immediately after the "Fordham flash" replaced Gabby Street as the Redbird boss.

Yesterday's encounter was marked by fistfists between members of the opposing teams, indicating the strong determination with which both clubs are pointing for first place. The principals were pitcher Steve Swetonic of the Pirates and outfielder George Watkins of the Cards; the time was the seventh inning. Watkins boiled over when Swetonic returned a verbal barrage for the slant he directed at the Buc hurler. After a heated exchange of words blows were exchanged.

The Pirate bats spoke early in yesterday's game with the result that the home nine pushed five runs across the plate in the initial inning. Continuing their attack on Walker, and Dazzy Vance, the Pirates scored four more times during the game while Swetonic and Waite Hoyt held the Cards to eight hits, and three runs.

New York have dropped their second consecutive game to Boston, Pittsburgh cut another full game from the Giants lead.

Tony Piet forged ahead of Floyd Vaughn in the club batting race by collecting three of the Pirate 15 hits. Swetonic bagged his ninth victory of the season, leaving Waite Hoyt the only member of the Pirate pitching staff below the .500 mark in mound work.

St. Andrew's Tops St. Nicholas 16-7

St. Andrews church mushball team handed the St. Nicholas team a 16 to 7 upsetting last night at Gaston park field in an East Side mushball league game. Small was the winning pitcher for the Saints and besides pitching a fine game smacked out two homers. F. Ayres also hit a homer. Small fanned seven and Teplica fanned four.

Score by innings:

St. Andrews	102	403	204-16	18	5
St. Nicholas	003	001	003-7	14	3

Batteries—St. Andrews, Small and Riley; St. Nicholas, Teplica and Polenick.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Right Fielder Watkins of the Cardinals and Steve Swetonic staged a fist fight at Forbes field, Pittsburgh yesterday in the seventh inning. Leo Durocher was at bat and failed to get out of the way of one of Steve's slants. Evidently this did not suit Watkins and when he popped up a foul and started toward the dugout passes a remark to Swetonic who replied in like manner. Watkins nailed Steve and Swetonic came back at Watkins. And the umpire settled the fight by brushing between them.

LeRoy Herrmann, one of the mainstays of the Los Angeles pitching staff has been recalled by the Chicago Cubs.

Louis Wolter, 58, who played second base with Memphis and other teams and quit baseball years ago, passed away yesterday at Springfield, Mo. He recently had a cerebral hemorrhage.

Sam Cooper, right tackle on the Geneva College team has been signed to a Pittsburgh National Football contract yesterday. Cooper graduated from Geneva last June.

Second annual Beaver County Open Junior tennis championship tournament will be held at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Friday and Saturday, August 11-12.

Young Yankees Top Oak A. C. 2-1

Young Yankees mushball team gained a 2 to 1 decision over the Oak A. C. last night in a postponed East Side League mushball game. The game at Taggart field was one of the best of the season. Dickson the Young Yankee pitcher allowed only four hits. He fanned ten men. The Yanks found the pitching of Filban for seven hits. Dickson hit a homer in the sixth inning to tie the game up. Clause scored the winning run in the ninth by crossing the plate on Merando's double.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

We are not going to stand for holdups by property owners along new roads.

I have given orders to the Department of Highways to abandon road plans entirely at places where persistent efforts are made to force payment of exorbitant claims for imaginary damages.

By this order I do not mean that property owners are expected to assume any actual loss by reason of road construction.

Whenever it is necessary to damage a property substantially, certainly the owner of that property will be paid for the actual damage.

But in many places property owners are trying to drain the road funds dry by ridiculous claims. Under my order to the Highway Department such action hereafter will be equivalent to killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

Wherever we are convinced that property owners are trying to hold us up there will be no road.

We need every dollar we can get to provide employment on the roads for the thousands of our fellow-citizens who are out of work. We cannot divert these road funds to the payment of ridiculous damage claims.

The value of property is raised in most cases by the building of new roads, but we do not ask the property owners to pay for that enhanced value. It is only fair to ask that property owners waive minor claims for damages.

In all the new projects now being undertaken, damage claims must determine very largely where the roads are to be built and the money is to be spent. The same will be true when we start to spend millions of dollars of Federal funds allotted this State under the Recovery Acts.

I am sure that I have the people of Pennsylvania behind me when I say that these road funds must be used to build roads and not to provide an unchecked flow of money to property owners along those roads.

Forty Hour Week For Employees At County Court House

Re-Arrangement Of Working Hours To Be Made In Offices

Employees of the Lawrence county courthouse will go on a 40-hour week beginning Monday, Aug. 7, it became known today. There are some details of the arrangement still necessary to be made and until they are made no formal announcement will be made by the county commissioners, but every office in the courthouse is ready to operate on a 40-hour week.

With most of the offices it will make little difference. Most of them have been opening at 8:30 and remaining open until five in the afternoon, with an hour and 15 minutes for lunch and Saturday afternoons off. Under the new arrangement the offices will open at 8:30, close at 12:15 and open from 1:30 to five.

Miss Jeanette W. Hutton, register and recorder, stated that her office had been opening at eight o'clock in the morning and that it had been open for the transaction of business during the noon hour. This arrangement would be continued by staggering lunch hours.

In the sheriff's office some adjustments will be necessary, as the jail warden, Russell McBride, goes on duty at 6:30 in the morning. It may be necessary to add some duties to the watchman or fireman in order to bring the job under the provisions of the NRA.

When the announcement of the change is made it will not entail any new employees, according to the commissioners. Under the new set-up most of the offices will be working 38½ hours per week.

Crowd Of Young People Meet At Camp For Picnic

Epworth League Enjoys Swim,
Supper, Tuesday—Get
Rainstorm, Too

Gathering at the football camp, near Rose Point, 23 members of the Senior Epworth League of the Mahoning M. E. church enjoyed an afternoon and evening of picnicking Tuesday.

Many of the members went to the camp early in the afternoon and spent several hours in swimming. Supper was served at about 6 o'clock and was followed by more swimming.

At about the time the wiener roast was scheduled, a heavy rainstorm broke and the leaguers took for their cars and went home. The storm seemed to have been confined to the district surrounding Rose Point, for not a drop fell in New Castle. The picnickers report that the rain was so terrific for a while that it was difficult to see the road enroute home from the camp.

But the rain subtracted nothing at all from the enjoyment of the event. It had been clear and perfect thru the largest part of the day.

Schoolmates Are Together Again

Memories of the old grade school days are running rampant among a crowd of men and women gathered in the Mahoning school building this afternoon.

Once a year the former students of the old school building which stood where the present building now is, gather for an afternoon's and evening's festivity. It is always a great event, and no matter what else is scheduled, the reunion comes first for this crowd.

After this afternoon's program, the reunions will gather at Cascade Park for a 6:30 o'clock supper, followed by swimming, bingo and dancing.

ERECT NEW BRIDGE

Replacing the old wooden bridge at Cottage Grove, near New Wilmington, the men who have summer cottages there have been busy for the past several days in building a new structure of boulders and iron pipes. It will be much more substantial than the old. The bridge crosses the Nesheannock creek inside the Cottage Grove grounds.

HAS HAND INJURED

M. J. Laverick, of Pittsburgh, stopped over here for treatment to his right hand Tuesday morning. He had in some manner received a severe cut across the back of the hand while operating a truck from Pittsburgh here. The injury was dressed and he continued on north.

Lightning Hits Telephone Pole

Pole On East Cherry Street
Shattered By Lightning
Bolt In Rainstorm

Mahoningtown had a rainstorm Monday evening, apparently confined to its own boundaries, that was climaxed with the shattering of a telephone pole on East Cherry street by a terrific bolt of lightning, between six and seven o'clock.

The lightning hit the top of the pole and traveled down almost to the base, splitting the pole in the center as it traveled. The pole was located in front of a vacant house and directly across the street from the S. E. Parks home.

Dick Barnes, who was an eyewitness to the spectacular lightning strike, states that splinters were blown so far in the sky that they were still falling to the ground several moments after the pole had been struck. They fell 125 feet away in some cases.

The shattered telephone pole was the center of considerable interest here on Tuesday.

SHED IS COMPLETED

The new lumber shed on the A. S. Co. lot and Box Corporation's grounds, has been completed. The shed will protect the lumber used by the factory.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Leo Sullivan and Jack Harris spent Monday in Warren, O.

Mrs. Sarah Peebles and sister, of Akron, O., were Tuesday visitors in seventh ward.

Victor Massone and Steve Orlando of this ward, are spending a few days in New York City.

Samuel Davy of North Cedar street, who was ill in bed all last week, is reported better this week.

Albert Fulton has returned to his home in Huntington, Ind., after a visit with his sister in Mahoningtown.

Mrs. W. S. Shannon and Mrs. W. S. Shannon, Jr., of Cleveland, O., were Tuesday callers in seventh ward.

Mrs. Alice Conti, of 106 West Wabash avenue, is reported improving after an illness of ten days with an infection of the leg.

Misses Helen Woods, North Cedar street, and Billie Shriver of Madison avenue are going to Zellenople today for a two-day visit.

Miss Irene Siberson of English avenue has been spending a few days with Mrs. F. P. Gorley, North Cedar street, and at the McFadden home on Newell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Denny and son, Roy, of Corning, O., have left for their home after a visit with Mrs. Denny's mother, Mrs. Edward Westman, North Cedar street.

Mrs. Anna Lawson McKee of West Cherry street, who underwent an operation in the New Castle hospital on Tuesday morning, is reported this morning as being in a fair condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vance, who have been making their home with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Galbraith of Orchard street on Tuesday moved back to their former home, New Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Snyder and son Howard, of East Clayton street, have returned home from Grand Rapids, O., where they were the guests of Mr. Snyder's parents. They attended the 19th annual Snyder reunion while away.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Roberts and Andrew Keating, of the corner of Wabash and North Ashland avenues, expect to leave on Friday to spend the week-end at the World's Fair in Chicago, and visit Mrs. James Sheppard of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting Mrs. Russell's sister, Mrs. Ralph Wetlich, of West Clayton street, for a few days. Mrs. Russell was Miss Kitty Stanton before her marriage. Enroute home they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ringer, of Canton, O., former residents of seventh ward. Mrs. Ringer is Mrs. Russell's sister.

Wall Street novices who, thus early in the game, have learned that the stock market is not a one-way performer, are luckier than they know.—The San Antonio Evening News.

Man Jailed For Stabbing During Argument In Home

Sale Of Home Produces Argument And Man Is Jailed, Woman And Man
In Hospital

(International News Service)
BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 2.—A fight which grew out of a discussion on the sale of a Vanport couple's home today sent the home-owner to jail and his wife and the prospective purchaser to Rochester hospital.

Lee Goodrum, who surrendered to police, is being held pending further investigation of an alleged fight in the Goodrum residence near Montgomery Island Dam in which Mrs. Goodrum and Frank Roush, 32, of Beaver, were cut.

Condition of Roush, suffering from knife wounds in the abdomen, is reported serious. Police said the knife wielding occurred during a controversy which started a short time after Roush called with intention.
